SJS Student Y Refuses Phillip's Speaking Request

Members of a Student Y cabinet meeting voted unanimously Thursday not to sponsor a speech by Dr. Herbert Phillips, self-labeled communist and former member of the University of Washington faculty.

The Student Y has been on the spot in the Phillips situation ever since the Student Council downed a request by the former philosophy professor to speak at the college. It was suggested that perhaps some organization sponsor Mr. Phillips and the Student Y became heir to the proposal.

Jim Martin, executive secretary of the Student Y, said that neither the YMCA or YWCA at the University of California would sponsor the discharged ex-professor and there was no reason why San Jose should stick its neck out.

Mlle. Chalufour To Speak on 'France Today'

"France Today" will be the topic of an address by Mlle. Marguerite-Marie Chalufour, a French librarian now touring the United States. She will speak at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow in the Little Theatre. Mlle. Chalufour's appearance at the college is under the sponsorship of the Social Science department and is open to the public.

She is a member of the national committee of the French Federation of University Women and is president of the alumnae association of the Lycee Moliere. She acted as a guide in France last summer for the party of Americans of which Prof. and Mrs. Claude Settles were members. Mr. Settles is associate professor of sociology.

Potts to Discuss Insect Problems

South Pacific insect problems from Hawaii to Johnston to Guam and Truk islands will be the subject of a kodachrome slide travelogue at 7:45 Tuesday evening in room S-31. Narrator for the lecture will be Robert Potts, U. S. Department of Agriculture entomologist from the San Francisco Quarantine station.

Early in the spring of this year Potts was sent to the South Pacific to study and survey agriculture with particular reference to insects. Several hundred colored slides will accompany "information about the place, people, the Navy and what the Department of Agriculture is doing in the South Pacific," Potts said in a letter to Dr. Carl D. Duncan.

Student Court Will Punish Grid 'Pickers'

San Jose State college students who are caught participating in the "Pigskin" Football Schedule lottery will be prosecuted by the Student Court, according to John Gregory, prosecuting attorney of the Court.

The matter of student gambling, specifically related to the "Pigskin" Football Schedule lottery was brought to the attention of the Student Council by member Richard Russo, sophomore representative. The case was turned over to the Student Court for further investigation.

Russo says that lottery tickets have been circulated around the college campus since the beginning of football season. He feels that gambling should not be allowed on campus.

Assistant Chief of Police J. M. Carter of the San Jose Police department says that this lottery is against the law, and that persons caught peddling tickets are guilty of a misdemeanor. This offense is punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months or by fine not exceeding $500, or both. Persons who bet on such a lottery also are guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sections 319-26 of the penal code of California deal with lotteries.

Opening Night 'Faust' Thrills Large Audience

Cast Gives Quality Performances; Jensen and Clark Are Outstanding

Fine Costumes and Stages Show Skill of Crew

By HELEN DAVIS

A packed house saw the opening performance of Goethe's immortal "Faust" when it was presented in the college Little Theatre Thursday night by the speech and drama department as the initial production of this year's drama season.

Definite and careful direction by Mr. John R. Kerr, beautifully appropriate sets by Mr. J. Wendell Johnson, and acting of above-average calibre set "Faust" off as a fine contribution to collegiate dramatics.

The play had pace and polish. While some scenes were not as smooth as they could have been, the fact that student actors and stage crew made such a complete and believable thing out of something as monumental as "Faust" is a tribute to their talents and the perceptiveness of their director and designer.

Set in the Middle Ages against a background of reality tinged with fantasy, "Faust" is the story of a man who seeks perfect contentment of a heavenly sort. Because he cannot achieve this bliss alone, in his misery and despondent searching he calls upon the devil, to whom he sells his soul for one moment of happiness.

Goethe's genius as a poet is not so readily apparent in this translation of "Faust", but his simple profundity, his gift for saying so much that is important and significant in one line transcends any translation. In this attempt to project all of what is behind Goethe's words, the cast of "Faust", particularly the two male leads, had difficulty in giving these words their total impact. Some of the lines hit home, but others were lost on an audience who were striving to catch the plot thread.

Mr. Johnson shows great gift for economical use of the Little Theatre's small but deep stage. His sets, particularly the ones for the prologue and for the scene in the dungeon, were artistically and technically effective.

The whole backstage crew deserves recognition, because such a production could only have been brought off by teamwork of a most devoted nature.

The costumes of Miss Berneice Prisk were wonderfully in keeping with the theme and with the color of the play. The devil's red garb and that of the witches and apes was outstanding.

James Clark in the title role showed streaks of brilliance. He injected much variety into reading of lines and made the suffering of Faust real. He made one feel repulsion for the weakness of Faust's character.

James Jensen as Mephistopheles was excellent. He seemed to relish his part—the fiendish glee with which the devil succeeded in winning Faust was caught and played crisply by Jensen, whose movements and voice lent themselves nicely to his role.

Miss Gwenn-Dam as Gretchen, the girl who embodied everything Faust sought, gave a sensitive performance. There was a balance in her portrayal which made Gretchen thoroughly believable, first as the innocent village girl, and later as the disillusioned woman who finds redemption.

Miss Shirley Wilber as Martha gave the part lightness and made her characterization sparkle. Martha emerged, after her first lines, as an earthy sort of person—laughable because she was so human.

SJS Professors Attend CPA Meet In San Francisco

Professor Jesse Reynolds and Arthur Kelley of the Commerce department, recently attended a meeting sponsored by the California State Society of Certified Public Accountants in San Francisco.

The principal topics discussed were the opportunities prevailing in the accounting profession and the need for adequate preparation before taking the C.P.A. examinations. The meeting was addressed by Carman C. Blough and John L. Carey, two outstanding members of the American Institute of Accountants.

Mr. Blough spoke on the efforts being made by the American Institute to formulate generally-accepted principles and procedures for the determination of corporate net income. By this method the concept of net income may be sharpened and made precise. The need for this is widely recognized in the profession today, according to Mr. Blough.

Thrust and Parry Students Parry Phillips Ban

'Not a Kindergarten'

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Dr. Herbert J. Phillips, ex-professor of philosophy of the University of Washington and an avowed Communist, has requested permission on two different occasions to speak before students of this college.

The evasive actions on the part of the college administration and student government officials has virtually amounted to a refusal to allow him to speak.

The paternalistic attitude by college authorities toward students, in short, protecting them from the realities of today's world, is not in tune with the objectives a college education is supposed to impart.

This is an institution of higher learning, it is not a kindergarten. We are led to believe that the students are far ahead of the college administration in this respect.

More good than harm would result if Dr. Phillips were allowed to speak. His appearance will jolt the lethargic into realizing the threat America faces. Such a graphic illustration of what Communism is and what it stands for will be of value to the students.

Isn't it far better to challenge Communism in the open than force it underground?

'Censorship of Ideas'

Dear Thrust and Parry:

It is a sad commentary on the democratic principles of freedom of speech and the exchange of ideas on the free market place, when a citizen is refused the right to speak simply because his views do not conform to those of the majority. Aside from the moral issue involved of suppressing the rights of minorities to be heard, the refusal of Dr. Herbert J. Phillips' request to speak at the San Jose State college campus is an insult to the intelligence of the student body. For it becomes obvious that the administration does not regard us adult enough to disseminate for ourselves the things we are told.

We consider this censorship of ideas, where there is no clear and present danger involved, a totalitarian device and directly opposed to the ideals of democracy which we fought to preserve. Therefore, we the undersigned members of the study body, request that Dr. Phillips be granted permission to speak on this campus to all those who are interested in hearing him.

No!!... Why Not?

Dear Thrust and Parry:

A few questions—rhetorical if no one deigns to answer them—have been interrupting my other thoughts. They regard Dr. H. J. Phillips and his requests to speak on our campus.

The first announced, last week, was his request to speak to the student body. ASB President, Don Schaeffer, said that the council could not sponsor Dr. Phillips. Why not? It seems to me that if there is some calendar conflict regarding the Auditorium, financial involvement, or a like problem, Mr. Schaeffer would make a point of saying so. If, however, there are those who feel that the student body is incapable of withstanding the influence Dr. Phillips might effect should we contact him, I, for one, feel that this present system is a facade—a facade for what, I don't know.

Concerning Dr. Phillips' request of the American Association of University Professors and Dr. Heath's remark, I again ask why the apparent "cold shoulder" to a man with perhaps different views than the majority? Are our instructors afraid to hear Dr. Phillips, ex-professor of philosophy at the University of Washington? If so, it is perhaps a clue the facade's purpose of existence.

Perhaps I am too deviant and should recognize it by my aversion to an obviously expeditious contraction (which I first read in the rable rousing subjectivity of faction papers). "Commie" is the word. It is only six letters long; "Communist" is nine letters long. Commie brands red with stereotype prejudice and somehow detracts considerably from the individual whose ability and capacity once enabled him to become Professor of Philosophy; too, it detracts from that other designator of accomplishment, "Doctor". In a few lines, Shakespeare's Hamlet described the idea, "Thrift, Horatio, thrift, the funeral baked meats did coldly furnish forth the marriage tables."

160 'Flappers' Attend AWS Annual 'Jinx'

The Associated Women Students decorated the Men's gym with a flapper theme for their annual "Jinx", held last Wednesday night, according to AWS President Marilyn Zeller.

Miss Zeller stated that more than 160 coeds took part in the games, relays, mixers, and other entertainment provided by the AWS committees. A program consisting of a "snappy" Charleston routine, a pantomime, cowboy songs, and presentations by the Dull Skulls was presented, Miss Zeller said.

The success of the "Jinx" was due to the hard work done by the girls in charge of the affair, Miss Zeller stated. Those in charge were: Wendy Clark, Barbara Harvey, Leta Howard, Barbara Childs, Melba Sills, Beverly Etter, Beth Calvin, Gerri Lopes, Virginia Weitzel, Pat Kiddie, Charlotte Maloway and Leta Walters.

Graduate Manager Requests Accounts

Faculty advisers of campus organizations who carry their accounts in the graduate manager's office are asked to turn in their audit account sheets not later than Nov. 30, according to Graduate Manager William Felse.

The campus organization bookkeeper urges all student treasurers to check on their balance each month so that books may be kept accurately at all times.

Bills that come into the graduate manager's office are put in student mail boxes in the Coop. Office secretaries ask that students check organization boxes for these bills.

"Many of the organizations on campus do not realize that the Spartan Shop can handle their orders for pins and other supplies," said Mr. Felse.

Unusual Course Now Being Given

One of the most interesting and unusual courses offered by the English department is English 142, directed reading, according to Dr. James Wood of the English faculty.

Students who have class conflicts may do directed reading for a particular course if no suitable hour for the desired class can be found.

"Only mature students with definite scholastic intentions are permitted to enroll in the class. It is not to be used as an avenue to light and irresponsible reading," Dr. Wood stated.

The course is for upper division students only, Dr. Wood said.

The course will fill a definite need for students who require English units for graduation.

San Jose Rips Aztecs by 40-0

By GEORGE McDONALD

San Jose State's Spartans, class of the CCAA, became undisputed leaders of the conference by trouncing the Aztecs of San Diego State, 40-0, in San Diego's Aztec Bowl Saturday night.

In the first quarter, the jump passes of Aztec Quarterback Leon Parma indicated that the Spartans might be in a game. But the big Spartan line, even though not in top shape, began to break through.

Experienced, hard-running backs, in the personage of the two Harry's, Russell and Beck, began to go for long gains.

It took the Spartans a long 11 minutes to put up a TD. Archie Chagonjian made the first of three interceptions to bring the ball to the San Jose 48. Gibby Mendosa, a small but fast half, scampered to the San Diego 24 to set up the score. Quarterback Gene Menges threw to End Junior Morgan for six. Mendosa missed the try for point.

The next time the Spartans got their hands on the ball, Russell made his best run of the year, a 41-yarder to the 18. Four plays later Fullback Jack Donaldson boomed over for 12-0. Mendosa again missed the kick.

Spearheaded by Parma's passes, San Diego moved to the Spartan 14. But Chagonjian grabbed another toss out of the air, and returned to mid-field. A Menges-Morgan pass and four drives by Russell gave "Rusty" and San Jose its third TD. Freddie Silva was successful in his try for point, for a 19-0 Spartan half-time lead.

Ed Miller, replacing Co-captain Jack Faulk at tackle, jumped on an Aztec fumble in the second half. Fullback Harry Beck, who has two years of eligibility left, they ran around end and away from many tacklers for 50-yards and the fourth score. Silva again converted for 26-0.

Another line replacement, Chris Fasciano, blocked an Aztec punt on the two. Don Dambacher scored, and Silva's try for point was again perfect for 33-0.

Maxie Houlihan led the Spartans' final drive. The Spartans went 40 yards to the San Diego 20. Houlihan then flipped to Beck in the flat, and Harry burst through for the TD. Silva then made his fourth successive conversion attempt for the final count of 40-0.

The Aztecs, who thought they

Spartans Have Last Chance Friday Nite

This Friday night at approximately 8 o'clock, in the confines of Spartan Stadium, the 1949 Golden Raider grid-squad gets its last crack at a major football opponent.

The "big time" team referred to is the galloping Gaels of Saint Marys. However, the Gaels haven't been galloping by any stretch of the imagination through this season's schedule. In fact, they have hardly been crawling.

Boasting a good, but erratic passer in Dick Jarvis, the Moragans have scored in every one of their 10 tilts, but meanwhile have leaked touchdowns through the air and on the ground like a sieve.

Judoists in Exhibition

Johnnie Johnson and Earl Harris, Chi Pi Sigma police frat judoists, took turns throwing each other around last Wednesday night in an exhibition for American Legion Post 18 at Mary Ann Gardens.

Johnson and Harris demonstrated the various chokes and holds of the Japanese originated art. Free demonstrations can be arranged by contacting the college police school.

Skiers Get Invite

An invitation to the U. of California's Annual Vanderbilt Memorial Ski meet was received by the San Jose State Ski team recently, announced Richard Robinson, ski team captain. Last year the Spartans were sixth in this meet.

SJ-SC Poloists Splash in Final Home Game Tonite

San Jose's water polo team will host the Santa Clara Broncos this evening in Spartan pool in an effort to get back on the victory trail. It is the last home game of the year for the Staters.

Losers by a 5-1 count to a fine University of California team last Wednesday afternoon, the Spartans are overwhelming favorites to beat the Broncos for the second time. San Jose State completely outclassed Santa Clara, 12-1, when the two teams met at the Bronco pool.

Coach Charley Walker does not know if the Broncos will bring their frosh team. If the Santa Clara yearlings come, they will play State's frosh at 8 p.m., with the varsity game at 9. In the event that only a varsity game is played, it will move up to 8.

had a chance against a team that had gained much experience while losing to four major schools, were never in the game. They got close several times, but fumbles and Chagonjian's interceptions never gave the partisan spectators a chance to scream.

Spartan Harriers to Run In Cal Poly Invitational Meet

After years of illness, the Pacific Coast colleges have at last arranged for a large invitational cross country meet to rival those that have yearly been slated by colleges on the Atlantic Coast and in the Midwest.

On Dec. 3 Cal Poly will inaugurate the running of the first annual Cal Poly Invitational Cross Country Meet. Already there has been a tremendous enthusiasm shown by most of the colleges as is evidenced by the number of colleges that have accepted the invitation and those that are contemplating entering teams.

It is planned to run two separate divisions, a college and a JC class, for which separate awards will be made to winners. Pasadena, Glendale, Riverside, Santa Ana, Los Angeles City College, Mt. San Antonio, Sacramento and Modesto have already entered in the JC division.

Coach Walt Bealey's power laden harriers will run head on into equally as powerful squads in the college division as Fresno State, Cal Poly, San Diego State, Santa Barbara, Occidental, Pepperdine, UCLA, USC, and Cal Tech have already accepted invitations.

The event will be run over the four mile Cal Poly course and because of the large number of colleges entered each school will be limited to five-man representation.

Bealey's big problem for the moment is picking five of his cross country men to represent the Spartans at San Luis Obispo come December. As soon as the weather permits the Spartan squad will have time trials to determine who will fill the five starting berths plus the two alternate spots. Norman Bottelo, Darrell Dukes, Marion Day, Bill Head, Jim Lund, Elwood Millar, Doug Prestage, Dore Purdy, Jim Simpson, Al Weber, Bob Weber, and Neil Williams are chief contenders for the five positions to be filled.

Novice Boxing Tourney To Open November 29

By WADE WILSON

With four nights set aside for the biggest fistic tournament in the history of San Jose State, the 13th Annual Novice Boxing Tournament will be held Nov. 29-30 and Dec. 1-2 in the Spartan Gymnasium.

Coach Dee Portal has seen this baby through 12 successful sessions, and Dee has also seen this self-same baby grow from an infant to man-size proportions. When this tournament was first inaugurated, a scant 600 people turned out to witness the battle of the inexperienced. (They really put their heart into it when they get up there and slug it out.) Now the program runs for four nights and will attract upwards from 6000 eager fans.

Portal was swamped from the first of school with applicants and men who wanted to manage and enter teams in the forthcoming tourney. Even the sororities got into the act. One enterprising fraternity scooped their brethren by sending out a gilt-edged invitation to a certain sorority asking them to join the frat in their rooting section, and they accepted, even though they didn't know what they had accepted. One starry-eyed co-ed thought they had bought a boxing team. Maybe they did.

And this brings up another problem to be reckoned with, where to put all of these rooting sections, and how to place them in the gym? That all can be ironed out by the simple method of placing names in the hat and drawing for the most prized sections of the gym. If the organizations outdo last years' rooting sections, that alone will be worth seeing, let alone the matches.

Gaudy, But Nice

There were costumes, and decorations, and sirens, and yes, even a Keystone cop furnished by the police school, cowbells and devils' costumes in last year's tourney. All were gaudy, but nice.

There are 16 teams entered at present, representing some 65 participants. This is rapidly changing as more and more teams are entered and as the teams get more men to box for them. There are many managers available who boxed last year and are ineligible to compete this year. Only men who have not reached the finals in previous years, or who haven't boxed on any team that has boxed in interscholastic matches are eligible.

Here is a partial list of teams and managers: THETA CHI'S, Wes Matthews, manager; Robert Bava, Dean Sensenbaugh, Earl Turnbull, Dick Chappell, Jack Barringer, and Ted Hovig. SAE, Raul Diez and Jim Nutt, managers; Mickie Maramonte, Buddy Traina, Myron Tijida, Bill Mendosa, Larry Dudley, Ron Padilla, and David Farlow.

KAPPA ALPHA, Les Penterman, manager; Jose Baustista, Bill Gwinn, Alfred J. Silva, Vincent Malone, and Fred Silva. DELTA SIGMA GAMMA, Al Tafoya and Jow Sepena, managers; Keith Bayne, Doug Hines, and Terry Ulrich. DTO'S, Paul Farris and John Jackson, managers; Raymond Molenhauer, Tino Donaire, Paul Barkman, Ralph A. Payne, Ray Abernathy, Don Suzikawa, and Bill Rothwell.

COLLEGIATE CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP, Mac Martinez and Tom Clayton, managers; Frank Padin, Stan Ekstrand, Al Miller and Ronald Perrizo. SGO, Stan Marcil and Allen Shields, managers; LeRoy Hodge, Bill Patton, and Bob Wood. PHI SIGMA KAPPA, Ed Martin and Don Schaeffer, managers; Jim Kane, Jack Hulse, Clair Tillier, and Herb Crawford.

Vic Viviano's, unattached; team sports, Lee Herion, Bob Viviano, Aggie Salazar, Jack Domrose, and Spence Fine. Vince Sempronio, also unattached, has Don Leclercque. Ray Grove, another unattached; team manager was Jack Fourcade, Melvin Riabold, and Robert Sweesy.

With a little over two weeks left before this classic affair, anyone wishing to box on a team should see Dee Portal or a team manager in the men's gym. And along these same lines, anyone wishing to sponsor a team, or co-sponsor a team, see those managers that have boys wanting to box, but are listed unattached.

Spartan Daily Sponsors Campus Toy Collection

The Spartan Daily will be in charge of collecting gifts and toys on campus for the International Christmas party to be held at the Civic auditorium Nov. 26. The purpose of the party, according to Mrs. Bertha M. Rice, originator of the event, is to bring back some of the old-time Christmas spirit for the children of all nationalities in the San Jose area.

A colorful and entertaining program has been prepared for the children and accompanying adults. Highlighting the program will be a Christmas play and motion picture. Carols will be presented by the junior choir of a local church.

After the entertainment, Santa Claus will distribute Christmas stockings and gifts to the children. Between 500 and 600 children will attend the party.

This year the party is being sponsored by the San Jose Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary, Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, chairman of the auxiliary committee, will be aided by 50 members of that organization in arranging the affair. Mrs. Bertha M. Rice, honorary chairman, will assist the group with preparation of the party program.

Students who have any toys or gifts suitable for children under 14 years of age may donate them to the International Christmas party for children by leaving them in the Spartan Daily office before Nov. 23.

Hillel Club to See B'nai B'rith Movie

"This is Hillel", a motion picture story of the B'nai B'rith Hillel foundation, will be shown tonight at 8 o'clock in Alexander hall of the YMCA, according to Arnold Levine, Hillel president.

The movie depicts the organization, development, and program of Jewish student centers sponsored by Hillel. It will be followed by folk dancing and refreshments.

Levine declared that the Hillel unit at San Jose State college is the 200th to be chartered by the national organization. Dr. Joe Cooper of the Psychology department is the new adviser to the local chapter, Levine added.

"We feel honored to have a man of Dr. Cooper's ability associated with our group," Levine commented.

Student Teachers Should Sign Up

Prospective teachers who plan to student teach or observe during the 1950 winter quarter are asked to sign-up before Friday, Nov. 18, according to Dr. William G. Sweeney.

Observers are requested to pre-register for Education 207 and 104a in room 161. Student teachers for the elementary kindergarten-primary, and junior high school level also sign in room 161. Special secondary and general secondary student teachers will consult their department heads.

Reason for the sign-up now is that placement in public schools can be arranged prior to the opening of winter quarter.

Bakersfield college offers a major in petroleum technology.

Juniors Will Set Prom Dance Date

Setting of a date for this year's junior prom will be on the agenda when the junior class meets in the Student Union Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 p.m.

Pete Cirivilleri, class president, said that committee appointments for the dance probably would be announced at that time.

State College Philosophy Leaders Attempt to Co-ordinate Courses

Representatives of philosophy departments of several California state colleges met here recently to discuss plans for co-ordinating philosophy courses in the various state colleges.

The plan would organize a system by which students transferring from one state college to another would get equal credit at the new institution.

Colleges represented at the meeting were: San Jose State, Chico State, San Diego State and Fresno State. Mr. Elmo Robinson, philosophy professor, was chairman of the meeting.

SJS Flying Frat To Sponsor Movie

The Alpha Eta Rho Flying fraternity outlined group objectives for the remainder of the quarter at a recent meeting, according to Dick Sauble, AER president.

The AER will sponsor public showings of two motion pictures on aviation subjects. "The Story of the Flying Wing", produced by Northrop Aviation, will be presented in Morris Dailey auditorium Nov. 15 at 7:30 p.m.

A second film, "Development of the B-36", will be presented later.

Happy Day! Less Exams

A cut in appropriations affecting college readers will probably mean fewer examinations for students, it was revealed last week by college administrative sources.

The reduction, an economy move by the state, reduces the number of readers available to assist instructors in processing student examinations and assignments.

Mr. E. S. Thompson, college comptroller, had no comment regarding the action.

The increased enrollment this quarter and the recent reader reduction has placed an additional burden on faculty members, it was reported.
